PROFILE

I am a highly self-motivated individual with an eye for detail, and a strong passion for design and aesthetics. I am currently building websites as a freelance agent, I am comfortable in working with HTML5, CSS3, CMS systems and modern web practices, as well as understanding the relevance of PHP and javascript, and being able to implement it into my projects. I also have several years experience in using InDesign, Illustrator, Lightroom and most notably; Photoshop.

I am working daily on improving my skills within web design and development, focusing on Search Engine Optimisation, as well as general graphic design, however, my primary focus is learning PHP for web.
